

Structured Language Experience Story “ace” #2

The astronauts decided to have a race in space. They wanted to see who could float the fastest across the moon. The race began as soon as the astronauts got up on Saturday morning. They put on their space suits and laced up their space boots. They put their helmets on to cover their faces. At nine o'clock in the morning, the race began. The astronauts floated slowly through space. Each astronaut was headed to the place where the shuttle was waiting to greet the winners at the end of the race. Astronaut Adam kept a fast pace throughout the entire race. He moved so quickly he did not leave a trace behind him for the other astronauts to follow. At twelve o'clock, Adam crossed the finish line and won the great space race. He took his place next to the space shuttle until the other astronauts had finished the race, too.
