

Structured Language Experience Story “air” #1

The pair of fairies flew down the staircase with a flair. Claire was fairly certain their hair needed to be perfect for tonight’s fun at the fairgrounds. Blaire had tried her new hairbrush on her haircut. But, her hairdo just looked hairy. So, they were on their way to see a hairstylist for a new hairdo.

Blaire and Claire flew through the air to the airport. Madame Stalair, the fairy hairstylist, operated her hair salon by the airstrip. Madame Stalair, with an airy wave, motioned them to take a chair and eat eclairs as she examined their hair.

Madame Stalair gave Claire and Blaire new haircuts. However, she cut too much hair, and they became hairless. She told them not to despair and she used a magic hair cream to regrow their hair. To be fair, Madame Stalair did not charge them for the haircuts.
