

Structured Language Experience Story “ap” #2

The happy captain looked at her map.
She ate a scrap of apple.

“Perhaps I will take a nap.”

A clap of thunder changed the captain’s mind.

“Perhaps I was sappy to be so happy.
This storm could trap us. What a sap I was not to watch the sky.”

The captain unwrapped the flapping sail.

“The map says Pineapple Gap is ahead. I would be happy to get there.”

Another thunderclap made the captain unhappy.

“Perhaps I will never see Pineapple Gap!”
