

Structured Language Experience Story “eat” #1

Mr. Veat was a deadbeat who was looking for a room with a little heat. Looking up, he saw a creature feature was playing at the movie theater. Heatedly, he argued with his wife that he would see the creature feature instead of buying the children meatballs to eat.

His wife was used to this mistreatment from Mr. Veat who often cheated his children. He went to take his seat, and he began to feel the heat.

Mrs. Veat kept her face featureless, even though her heart was beating fast. Then a beatific smile came to her face as she looked at the winning lottery ticket hiding under her seat. Mrs. Veat accomplished a great feat as she slipped out of the theater. Finally, she was able to move her kids to a wheat farm. The Veat children never again suffered from mistreatment.
