

Structured Language Experience Story “ent” #1

A boy named Kent had no money for rent, so he sent away for a tent. He got his tent and set it up. He found that one pole was bent and another pole had a dent. So he sent the tent back and asked for another. While waiting, his friend Ben lent him a tent. Kent spent a night in the tent. He liked it. He went and got his new tent and gave back his friend's tent. Now they both have tents and Kent does not pay rent.
