

Structured Language Experience Story “et” #2

A singer named Peter at the Metropolitan Opera was reading a pamphlet between sets. It was titled “How to Raise a Pet From a Petri Dish.” He went to the lounge to smoke a cigarette. As he was leaving he turned on the faucet to wash his hands. It turned out to be a mistake he would live to regret. Suddenly water gushed forth everywhere! The sprocket shot off like a rocket when he tried to turn the water off. Screaming, he pleaded, “Fetch a bucket, my feet are getting wet! Bring a socket wrench to turn off the water meter. Better yet, call a plumber!”
