

Structured Language Experience Story “id” #2

Sid and his wife Middy made a bid on the house down the street that looked like a pyramid. First they underbid the other offers. Then they overbid the offers and received the house. Sid and Middy moved into the house and had kids named Liddy and Niddy. The schoolkids made fun of their names and raised their eyelids when they walked past their house that looked like a pyramid. But the kids didn't care. Liddy and Niddy outdid the other kids by forbidding their comments to enter their minds. Sid, Middy, Liddy, and Niddy lived happily ever after in their pyramid shaped house.
