

Structured Language Experience Story “ig” #1

Iggy Iguana and Piggley Wiggley went to the arctic to visit pig’s friend, who lived in an igloo. It was too cold for the iguana. The pig told him to eat more and get bigger like him. Iggy agreed, but he was too cold to eat and wanted to know what to do. Pig told him to put his hair in a pigtail and cover his head. Iggy needed something to cover his head, so he and pig looked around the igloo. There was a shovel to dig, there was a jigsaw puzzle for play, there was a digital clock for time, and there was a woolly wig. Pig figured the woolly wig would be the best to cover Iggy’s head. Iggy put on the wig and felt so warm he could begin to eat and get bigger.
