

Structured Language Experience Story “ind” #1

Mankind must be blind to treat each other so unkindly. Don't you find that they put their noses to the grindstone for work? Yet, they are not mindful of the needs of others.

We need to remind them to take the blinders off their eyes. We shouldn't need to use hindsight to treat everyone with kindness. If we are all mindful of all mankind, we won't go through life blindfolded, walking aimlessly down a never ending winding road of unkindness.
