

Structured Language Experience Story “ire” #1

The local circus was about to hire a new high wire siren to replace the one that was ready to retire. It caused quite a stir, because the siren that was ready for retirement didn't aspire to be replaced. She did everything she could to misdirect would-be new hires, from covering them with wire, to working them until they perspired. Finally, the circus had to fire her for what had transpired.