

Structured Language Experience Story “od(d)” #1

Todd took his new rod and went fishing. He opened his tackle box and rummaged through an odd hodgepodge of lures. He baited his hook and cast his rod. Todd gave the line a prod in hopes of catching a fish. It was starting to get cold so Todd put on his bodysuit, but then he was too warm and started to nod off to sleep. Right before Todd fell asleep he felt a prod on his rod and after a few minutes Todd had a big cod flopping in the bottom of his boat.
