

Structured Language Experience Story “oll” #1

Molly had a rollicking good time at her party. She received many gifts, including a Barbie doll, lollipops, a dollhouse, and many dollars.

But, her sister, Holly, wasn't so jolly. Her nose was itchy from the high pollen count. Holly hated pollination season. She wasn't even mollified by Molly giving her a lollipop. Then Holly looked at the others and said, “By golly, I'm not going to be like a mollusk and stay in my shell! Let's play volleyball.”

There was a lot of jollity as they walked by the hollyhocks to get to the sand volleyball courts. As the ball volleyed back and forth, everyone said that Molly and Holly gave the best parties.
