

Structured Language Experience Story “ture” #1

Once there was a creature with poor posture. This feature was the result of a fracture the creature received during a fight in a pasture with a mature animal of huge stature. The creature always wanted to get his picture taken but was afraid. One day Mother Nature came along and made an overture about how wonderful he would look in a picture. He then decided to have a miniature picture taken so that he could hang it over his furniture.
