

Structured Language Experience Story “ug” #2

The ugly bug, Doug, was sluggish as he struggled to crawl into the dugout. Usually Doug was a real slugger always hitting a home run for the Slugs. But, today he was bugged that his ball kept hugging the foul line. However, the pitcher’s face was filled with smugness as he juggled the ball on the mound. The game had been a tug-of-war, but it looked like the Junebugs were going to win. The struggling Slug’s last batter shrugged and tugged at his bat. Suddenly, it was a grand slam. Everyone looked bug-eyed as the Slugs emptied the dugout to snuggle and hug on the field. The Slugs had beaten the Junebugs in a real slugfest.
