

Structured Language Experience Story “ure” #2

Mrs. Slamlure didn't know if she could endure one more day at her high pressured job. The allure of more leisure time gave her pure pleasure as she was lured into dreamy thoughts. She was sure that taking time to get a manicure and a pedicure would cure her stress.

Suddenly the phone rang. It was Mr. Slamlure calling to say that his last project wasn't a failure. He assured his wife that it was a treasure that would insure them years of Epicurean pleasure.

Mrs. Slamlure wildly conjured thoughts of pleasure. Regaining her composure, she procured the correct retirement forms from the treasurer. This gave Mrs. Slamlure closure on her high pressured job.
